

Annabelle Chaplain

BA MBA FAICD

Chairman, Qld Bulk Water Services Industry

Annabelle's career in finance spans almost three decades. She now brings these skills to a broad range of roles at board level in the public and private sector.

Annabelle's experience in investment banking began as an assistant to the currency hedging dealer at Barclays Australia in 1980 following two years of living in Asia while working and studying Mandarin. Her early foreign exchange experience led to a career in private banking, corporate lending, project finance and public sector financing.

In 1996 she was asked to establish ABN AMRO's business in Queensland after which she went on to run its public sector client business for Australia and New Zealand in Sydney and to be a member of its Australian Management Committee. She was also a member of the ABN AMRO Morgans board during that time.

In these last ten years Annabelle has been building expertise in governance and strategy amongst other things advising Brisbane City Council on its North South ByPass Tunnel and Transapex projects. She has held directorships in various industries including infrastructure, manufacturing and the arts.

Today, Annabelle is Chairman of the Queensland Bulk Water Supply Authority and Honeycombes Property Group Pty Ltd as well as being a director of Defence Housing Australia, Cannex (Aust) Pty Ltd and the Australian Youth Orchestra.
