How to Save Money

In 2004, Jennifer Steenland and her husband fell upon tough times, so Jennifer began searching the internet for money saving tips. She found that quality information was scarce and often out of date, which gave her the idea to develop a website to help her and others stretch their dollars further.

Thus, www.savingsmart.com.au was born. Jennifer researched the business idea for two years before launching in October 2006. Since its launch, Savings Mart has become a popular resource for those searching for money saving tips and was recently featured in the April & June editions of Money Magazine.

Jennifer and team member – and daughter! - Rachel will share their knowledge and money savings tips with GLAM gals at our next event, covering:

- How to save a fortune NOW!
- Simple methods to develop your own budget
- How saving can be easy and fun
- 10 steps to slash your grocery bill
- Discounts available in Brisbane and surrounding areas
- Tips that can save you $1,000's per annum

About Jennifer

Jennifer has worked with her husband Tony for the last 20 years in a successful construction company, building houses. Jennifer was involved exterior and interior design, budgeting, purchasing and book keeping.

She and Tony are now keen property investors, involved in purchasing, renovating and renting investment properties, although the majority if of Jennifer's time is spent working on her passion, Savings Mart.

She is also currently studying Information Technology, in a bid to further develop her IT skills.

Jennifer and Tony have two grown children, and love sailing, reading and travelling.

About Rachel

Rachel has worked in health administration for several years, and is also currently studying a Bachelor of Business (Property Economics) and looks forward to applying these skills to a career in property investment.
